College of Business

The Westcliff College of Business offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in Business Administration. The BBA, MBA and DBA degrees are meant for working professionals who want to further their careers in business, whether they are pursuing jobs in management, leadership, and consulting or wish to become business entrepreneurs themselves.

The cornerstone of a Westcliff University business degree is the development of analytical reasoning skills that are immediately applicable to the real world. Equally important, our business students increase their understanding of the global business community and become more attuned to market trends and thus entrepreneurial opportunities.

When you enroll in the College of Business, you can expect to refine your communication skills, particularly
